Renowned Writer Will Speak Here

BY BUDDY PARKER

Those movie fans who remember THE FBI STORY starring James Stewart may be pleased that the author of the book by that title is to speak May 18 before the student body.

Don Whitehead, renowned for this widely read book, has also been recognized for his comprehensive and timely journalistic work. Within a three period he was twice awarded the Pulitzer Prize, highest honor available to newspapermen.

His journalism has frequently involved him in dangerous assignments over a broad span of the world. During World War II, while in Africa, he wrote an eye-witness account of the Rommel attack south of the Mareth line and the drive into Tunisia. He covered all major American campaigns--the liberation of Paris with a 1600 word article which he pounded out in 45 minutes!

Of his landing with allied troops at Normandy on D-Day he said: "So many were being killed that I finally lost fear. I was resigned to being killed."

Again, during the Korean War, Whitehead volunteered for overseas duty living alongside and under the same conditions as the American soldiers. His resulting work earned him his first Pulitzer Prize in 1950.

A second prize was awarded in 1953 for his story of President-elect Eisenhower's secret flight to Korea in December 1952.

Meeting Emphasizes Needs

The University of Tennessee Martin Branch was host yesterday to a meeting of the Legislative Council.

Our campus was honored to have this group of senators and representatives who meet between regular legislative sessions to plan what is to come later before the whole body. It marked the first time that the committee had met on the UTMB campus, another notable first for us.

Their coming here may have great influence on the future plans for the continued expansion of our growing university. After a tour of the campus, including several of our buildings and a very impressive look at our rapid growth, hopes are high that more funds will be appropriated for additional services and facilities to further this expansion.

Dr. Paul Meek told the group that by 1974 there will be 3,000 students enrolled here and in the same period the faculty will have grown from 115 to 230. With additional students it will be necessary for our physical plant to be expanded in proportion.

The council members now have our situation in mind so that they can present it, along with other business, to the regular session of the legislature in January.

UTMB needs such attention as this to enable her to develop in such a manner and at such a pace that she can fulfill her mission in higher education in the state. That the pace will be rapid is indicated by the fact that the student center and a men's residence hall unit will be begun this year. A library building is scheduled to be started next year and another academic building is already in the "first talking stage."

UTMB Students Will Represent ASA At SUSGA Meet In Biloxi

A number of University of Tennessee Martin Branch representatives will be among the student leaders from more than 60 colleges and universities throughout the eight-state southeastern area who will converge on Biloxi, Mississippi, Thursday, May 7, for the three-day annual conference of the Southern Universities Student Government Association (SUSGA).

UTMB's official delegation will be made up of ASA officers, David Stroud and Virginia Zachary; Interfraternity and Panhellenic Council presidents Philip White and Annette Grissom; the newly elected ASA president and Professor H. C. Allison, ASA sponsor.

This year's conference, hosted by the Student Government Association of the University of Southern Mississippi, will be held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, May 7-9, with headquarters in Biloxi's Buena Vista Hotel.

On hand, in addition to the student representatives, will be college and university faculty and staff leaders, outstanding speakers, and some of the finest entertainment to be seen anywhere at one time.

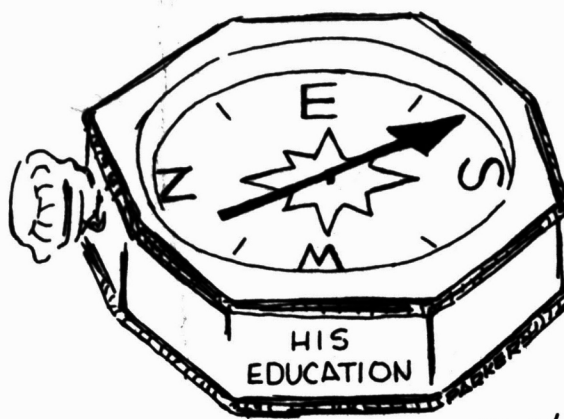

Many of the country's major entertainment agencies, particularly those who specialize in booking campus attractions, will provide entertainment for the SUSGA meeting.

One of the several aims of SUSGA is to help bring better entertainment to the campuses of member schools at lower costs and on a confirmed basis. In line with this objective, a frank and realistic panel discussion, including a question and answer period, with representatives from the major agencies participating, is a highlight of the Friday program.

In all there will be 16 different stimulating and informative panel discussions, three business sessions, and several speakers who are authorities in areas of interest to the student delegates.

SUSGA represents almost a quarter of a million students in 56 member colleges and universities in the states of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, and Tennessee.

The UTMB All Students Association became affiliated with SUSGA this March.

THE GRADUATE'S GUIDE

Buddy Parkers Return To Campus For Degree After Panama Sojourn

BY ERNIE MCCALL

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harold Parker III, better known as Buddy and Kathryn, are former UTMB students who left the campus for a very interesting way of life and have now returned so that he can complete requirements for his degree.

Buddy and Kathryn both discontinued school in 1958. Shortly after he went into the Air Force they were married, and soon she was able to join him in the Panama Canal Zone where he was stationed.

While there he worked as a photographer, they participated in drama productions together and individually, and she took ballet for a time. But, they also lived in Panama City among Panamanians. After becoming close to the people then and their way of life, Buddy and Kathryn are now capable of making some unusually informative comments about the country.

the campus, the students periodically have small revolutions complete with guns and like weapons. Sample causes for revolts would be the reduction of tuition or the changing of entrance requirements.

In speaking of the "civilians" again, Buddy mentioned the time habits of the people. It seems that the Canal Zone has become known as the "Country of The Day of Tomorrow" due to their custom of "never doing today what they can put off until tomorrow." Buddy thinks the temperature may slow body metabolism and be partly to blame for this condition.

If invited to a party, one should inquire if the festive event will operate on American time schedule or Panamanian time schedule. If the latter is the case, the host will expect his guests to arrive forty-five minutes to an hour late.

BUDDY AND KATHRYN

Buddy pointed out the uneven distribution of wealth that exists there saying that, in proportion to the number of people, the country has more millionaires than any other. Poverty, he said, is predominate, and due to this factor many people turn to Communism in hope of finding a better way of life.

While there Buddy learned there is a Communistic movement in Panama and that the equivalent to UTMB's ASA on the University of Panama campus is a Communistic group. Since there are no police on

Although the country is highly Catholic, most Panamanian males have a mistress without injure to their public reputations; in fact it is almost mandatory for a good public reputation.

Another difference Buddy mentioned was the contrast of the American and Panamanian father images. Here most young children picture their father as God-like, but the Panamanian ideal is a man of great power and strength. It seems they may consider extreme goodness in a man extreme weakness.

For example, one of the men running for president of the country now has been exiled from that office twice before.

Another event that stands out vividly to Buddy and Kathryn about Panama is that their eight-month-old daughter Andrea was born there.

Presently Buddy is enrolled in the Liberal Arts curriculum majoring in English. He is a reporter for THE VOLETTE, and has drawn several cartoons for the paper lately.

Interests of the couple include music, art and drama. When in school here before, Kathryn participated in several Vanguard productions and was in the group that instigated the drama fraternity.

Summer Reading Meeting June 16

The annual Summer Reading Conference will be held at The University of Tennessee Martin Branch on June 16 and 17, in the New Physical Education Building, according to Dr. Glenn S. Gallen, head of the UTMB Education Department.

Dr. Thomas C. Barrett, assistant professor of education at The University of Wisconsin, will be the conference speaker. Dr. Barrett received his bachelor of science, master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees from The University of Minnesota.

Dr. Barrett is presently working with Dr. Theodore Clymer on the development of a reading readiness test.

The purpose of the conference, sponsored by the UTMB Education Department, is to stimulate interest in reading through better teaching of reading.

About 300 teachers, supervisors, principals, superintendents and other interested people are expected to attend.

Charter Written For Honor Group

A provisional constitution for the first honor society on The University of Tennessee Martin Branch campus was tentatively approved by a special faculty committee last week, and provisional officers of the group were elected.

This is one of the first steps in organizing the society which is to be set up with standards similar to Phi Kappa Phi, a national honorary organization, with which the local group plans to become affiliated after certain requirements are met.

The purpose of the organization is the recognition and promotion of scholarship.

Dr. Muriel C. Tomlinson, UTMB professor of French, was elected provisional president of the group, and Mrs. Mary Lynn Benson, assistant professor of chemistry and physics, was elected secretary. Several committees were also appointed.

Racquet Squad Wins 5-4 Loses One By Same Score

UTMB's tennis team won one and dropped one last week both by scores of 5-4 in matches with Union University and Austin Peay State College.

Wednesday, April 29, Union's Bulldogs came to Martin and later returned to Jackson with a loss to their credit. After splitting 3-3 in the singles, the Vols took two out of three doubles matches to account for the 5-4 victory.

UTMB's three top men fell in the opening singles events. Jim Newcombe dropped his two 6-4 matches to Union's Harrison. Covington tripped Moore Landers 10-8, 6-3 for the Bulldog's second match, and teammate Boren handed Andy Gardner losing decisions of 6-1 and 6-0.

The following three singles matches went down on the Vol's credit. Tom Dial ousted Union's Tipton 6-2 and 6-3 after Tom Hay had won over Stallings 6-2 and 6-3. Ronnie Giles took the final singles match for the UTMB courtsters, 6-0 and 7-5, against Hays of Jackson.

Although Newcombe and Landers fell to Harrison and Covington in the doubles 1-6, 6-2, and 6-4, Gardner and Dial tripped Boren and Tipton by the scores of 11-9, 2-6, and 6-3. Hay and Giles won the decisive match for the Vols 12-10, 2-6, and 6-2 over Hayes and Stallings.

Although the Vols did not come out on top against Austin Peay at Clarksville, the 5-4 match brought praises from tennis coach J. C. Henson.

"I was very proud of the boys. APSC is tough, but they played them a good match."

Winning only two out of six singles events hurt the Vols chances for an upset. Jim Newcombe defeated Fred Alsop in the singles 1-6, 7-5, and 7-5. Ralph Grant of APSC lost to Moore Landers also, 2-6, 7-5, and 6-1, here the winning stopped. Rocky Cobb defeated Tom Dial 6-4 and 6-3, and Frank Pasteur topped Tom Hay 6-2 and 7-5. Ronald Frey defeated Ronnie Giles 6-1 and 6-0, and Robert Hunt tripped newcomer Tommy Jones 6-2 and 6-2.

In the doubles, Newcombe and Landers dropped Alsop and Grant 1-6, 6-1, and 7-5. Cobb and Frey defeated Dial and Hay 6-4 and 7-5, but Giles and Jones came through against Pasteur and Hunt 7-5 and 6-3.

Whites Beat Orange Team In Annual Spring Intrasquad Football Contest

U-T Martin's spring gridsters closed practice Thursday night with a 6-0 defensive battle at College Field in the annual Orange-White intrasquad game.

Coached by Ross Elder, the White squad struck oil shortly after the start of the second half when Marvin Hudson leaped for the one yard score from his fullback position. The play followed a 25-yard pass completion from quarterback Dan Bunn to wingback Larry Shanks.

Due to only a month of practice on the recently-introduced flip-flop offense, both teams made several mistakes with the ball. However, hitting was good and the defensive teams held fast.

Excluding the scoring drive, neither team penetrated the 25-yard line during the entire night.
